

Web Resources

NEW TEACHER INDUCTION PROGRAM

<h2 style="text-align: center;">Communication with Parents/Guardians</h2>	Professional development and training, specific to the needs of new teachers, should include the following core content:
	Understanding the perspective of parents/guardians and families	Developing open and collaborative communication skills	Developing attitudes, skills and communication strategies to foster a collaborative relationship with parents and students	Strategies to engage parents and families in supporting their child's learning at home and at school	Strategies to communicate with parents on an ongoing basis about:				Positive conflict resolution strategies and strategies aimed specifically at dealing with challenging situations	Developing teaching strategies that foster an open and collaborative relationship with parents and families
					classroom events, assignments and expectations (such as planners, newsletters, class website, etc.)	informing and helping students and parents understand strategies to be used, for formative evaluation, and to give them meaningful feedback for improvement	students' progress (such as report card comments, parent-teacher conferences, etc.)	school events and volunteer opportunities
Abc123 Simple Steps to your child's success - Tips & Tools for parents: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> o 10 Tips to Help your Child with Reading, Math and Writing – K-6 o 10 Tips to Help Boys with Reading; Help your Child do Homework; Get Your Child Ready for School; Help you Communicate with Teacher; Use arts and crafts to develop math and literacy skills; Help your child build vocabulary through new words; For Summer Learning Fun o 5 Tips to help choose books for your child; for sharing family stories o Does your child Need Extra Help? o Helping your Child with Reading and Writing – A Guide for Parents o Helping your Child Do Mathematics – A Guide for Parents
Video Podcasts <ul style="list-style-type: none"> o Art Experiences o Getting Organized for School: Establishing Routines o Sorting, Matching and Making Patterns o Reading at Bedtime o Literacy and Numeracy on the Fridge

<h1 style="text-align: center;">Communication with Parents/Guardians</h1>	Professional development and training, specific to the needs of new teachers, should include the following core content:
	Understanding the perspective of parents/guardians and families	Developing open and collaborative communication skills	Developing attitudes, skills and communication strategies to foster a collaborative relationship with parents and students	Strategies to engage parents and families in supporting their child's learning at home and at school	Strategies to communicate with parents on an ongoing basis about:				Positive conflict resolution strategies and strategies aimed specifically at dealing with challenging situations	Developing teaching strategies that foster an open and collaborative relationship with parents and families
					classroom events, assignments and expectations (such as planners, newsletters, class website, etc.)	informing and helping students and parents understand strategies to be used, for formative evaluation, and to give them meaningful feedback for improvement	students' progress (such as report card comments, parent-teacher conferences, etc.)	school events and volunteer opportunities
Elementary Curriculum - ○ By Grade ○ By Subject
Secondary Curriculum - ○ By Grade ○ By Subject
Publications for Parents - ○ Ongoing Interest ○ Publications by Year
Parents Back to School Guide
Settlement.org:

Click here to access French language resources to support professional development in this core content area.